Biography and Social Media

January 2023

“There has been an undeniable calling within me as long as I can remember, and that is to fulfill a living that will put my soul to rest with a higher powers purpose in this life. That is where I can say music and my journey began.”

His endeavors musically have never been for self glorification but for the conscious pursuit of life beyond the veil and being able to bring back such feelings that gives humanity the grips of what it means to be truly free. Cordell has always hoped to be able to reach a profound level and platform his music for others to be able to feel that emotion at the highest level within themselves.

Cordell Winter has been mentored by the likes of Kid Rock and produced by multi platinum producer Malcolm Springer, founder and producer of Matchbox 20 and Collective Soul. He has toured with bands such as Slaughter, bands as unforgettable as Billy Gibbons, Skid Row, Quiet Riot and Lita Ford, played top tier shows and festivals such as Milwaukee’s Summerfest, and road hustled crowds with the Grateful Dead, all the while being admired by musicians as profound as his friend Loretta Lynn herself, amongst others. Cordell Winter is an inspiring story of what it means to never take no for an answer, while living the beat poet life on the road.

From a young age, Cordell who grew up on the sandy beaches of the Sunshine State of Florida, chose a free spirited life over a life between the lines as he traveled all over America living a mystic and gypsy lifestyle out of a van to chase his dreams, gathering insight and inspiration while writing songs and playing for anyone willing to listen.

Much like the mindset of his kindred souls in spirited 1960s, in the time of seers and thinkers, Cordell became nothing short of a poet on a pursuit of consciousness, on a relentless path to awaken the inner longing of humanity. .

This longtime national touring artist is a brand new sound that blends of Rock N Roll music prodding the 1960s and 1970s spiritual movement and draws comparisons to bands such as The Doors, Led Zeppelin and Rolling Stones, while their masterful playing and high energy shows draw further comparisons to Guns N Roses, Red Hot Chili Peppers and Aerosmith to name a few. Dangerous and Passionate this band is making strides on a mission to define what Rock N Roll is to the core.

Cordell now fronts the band The Cordell Winter Band formed with founding members, Matt Skoda, Kai Foster and Day Vawn Miller.
